This free program calculates interest on IRS deficiencies, excluding corporation underpayments exceeding $100,000. Simply enter the starting and ending dates and the assessment at the start date to calculate interest. Don't assume that IRS will agree with this computation. There are variations in how IRS calculates interest. Sometimes IRS makes mistakes. And we assume no liability for any error made by this program. It is intended for comparison purposes. Compare the details in this computation against the IRS detailed calculation. Please report any discrepancies to taxcalc@starkman.com. Source: Rev. Rul. 2011-32
